Man pled guilty to lesser charge in attempted murder

By: Doug Ponder
A Pulaski County man recently pled guilty to a lesser charge, after allegedly attempting to murder another Pulaski County man at an abandoned rock quarry on Mullins Station Road in Mt. Vernon.

Jason Dewayne Gambrel, 30, of Science Hill was originally charged with the attempted murder and first degree robbery of Derek Kissee, 23, of Somerset.

However, in Rockcastle County Circuit Court last Wednesday, Gambrel's first degree robbery charge was dropped and the attempted murder charge was amended to first degree assault.

Gambrel pled guilty to the first degree assault charge and Circuit Judge David Tapp recommended a fourteen year prison sentence.

According to the Rockcastle County Sheriff's Department's original report of the incident, two men were at the abandoned rock quarry searching for brass bullet casings on Wednesday, July 16th when they found Kissee severely beaten and completely buried under several large rocks.

Kissee was transported by ambulance to Rockcastle Regional Hospital and he was later airlifted to the UK Medical Center where he was treated for multiple skull fractures. Kissee was then transferred to the Car-

Local teen killed in single vehicle accident

By: Doug Ponder
A Rockcastle County teenager was killed in a single vehicle accident Monday afternoon on Hwy 25 near the Rockcastle/Madison County line near Boone's Gap.

According to Kentucky State Police reports, Richard Austin Tillery, 18, of Conway was traveling south on Hwy 25 when he reportedly lost control of his vehicle after hydroplaning on the wet roadway, causing his vehicle to cross into the northbound lane, leave the road and collide with a tree.

Tillery was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Coroner Jimmy Cornelison. Investigators said the wet roadway and Tillery's speed were factors in the accident. Tillery was not wearing his seat belt at the time of the accident.

Officials said that seconds before the accident, a Kentucky State Police trooper, traveling north on Hwy 25, clocked Tillery speeding while he was traveling south on Hwy 25. When the trooper turned his cruiser around to pursue Tillery, and initiate a traffic stop, he had already lost sight of Tillery and came upon his vehicle moments later after it had crashed into the tree.

The accident is still under investigation by the Kentucky State Police. State Trooper Charles Brandenburg is in charge of the investigation.

Construction begins on Wildie Bridge

By: Doug Ponder
Contractors have recently started reconstructing two bridges over Clear

Creek on Hwy 1786 in Wildie. County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis said contractors started working on the condemned bridge last week. He said the condemned bridge is the fourth bridge on Hwy 1786 from Hwy 25 and that it's near the intersection of Hwy 1786 and Hwy 1787.

Carloftis said contractors will begin reconstruction of the third bridge on Hwy 1786, from Hwy 25, once they complete construction of the condemned bridge.

The third bridge wasn't condemned but was reduced from a 10 ton bridge to a 3 ton bridge due to the amount of deterioration.

"I asked them if they could reconstruct the bridges one at a time instead of both at the same time in order to cause as little disturbance as possible," Carloftis said. "There are a

by: perlina m. anderkin
My third great grandchild, and granddaughter Megan's and husband John's, first child arrived safely Monday (one day after my birthday by the way).

Brooks Alan Greer Hunt checked in at 8 lbs., 4 ozs. and was 20 1/2 inches long with a full head of hair. He is doing well as is mother Megan.

Of course, if the child had been allowed to arrive when he was supposed to, he might have been a even bigger. These days it seems doctors decide when babies are born and Megan's was no exception. Even though her actual due date wasn't until Dec. 6th, she was put in the hospital on Sunday night and they started her labor and then got more aggressive on Monday. I thought it was amusing that after they administered the epidural, a pain blocker, when Megan was relatively far along, she went to sleep.

I have had several children and never went to sleep during labor. I'm pretty sure the labor room staff would have been delighted (along with Jim) to have seen me go to sleep during the process but it didn't happen.

Anyway, Brooks is here, Megan is fine and alls right with the world.

I didn't write a column last week. I was sullied up (one of my mother's expressions) because I had made a mistake in each of my last two columns. In one, I called the Keystone XL Pipeline the Alaskan Pipeline and in the other, I called Megyn Kelly's show "Happening Now" instead of by its correct name, "The Kelly File."

For several years, I have been attributing my mistakes to my "senior moments." At the rate I am going these days, I'm going to have to change that to "senior hours." When it gets to "senior days" is when they will have to make room for me at the nursing home in Brodhead.

Just as everyone else, I have been watching the Ferguson troubles a lot.

It is disheartening to see people violently loot and destroy personal property and endanger lives because of their refusal to accept a judgment reached by a grand jury. Of course, it is also disheartening to see a young life snuffed out for any reason. I personally think Officer Darren Wilson might be guilty of using bad judgment but since the incident, according to reports, only lasted a total of 90 seconds, he was probably operating on training and survival instincts.

That being said, demonstrators do have the right to protest but they do not have the right to deliberately loot and burn or block major highways or to ignore facts given to a grand jury, that provide a different result than they demand.

President Obama campaigned in '08 on being everyone's president, of uniting the country. I feel like we are the most divided as a country as we have ever been and that is sad. He had a golden opportunity to unite and chose not to. Instead he chose to divide us economically and racially to further the aims of his party.

He has also lost the trust of the majority of the nation with his seeming inability to tell the truth. It began with, "if you like your insurance plan" to "I am the President, not an emperor. My job is to carry out the laws passed by Congress not make them (as to immigration reform)" and has progressed to the most innocuous things such as recently when he left his helicopter to run back into the White House. When he came out he waved his BlackBerry at the crowd inferring that he had forgotten it. However, a sharp-eyed

Points East

By Ike Adams

I never ventured forth on Black Friday because neither Mr. Parkinson nor I were in any mood to deal with flying elbows and cussing customers emitting bitter wails because that $99 television set they saw advertised in the Thanksgiving Day paper was already gone. What the ad didn't tell them was that there was only one, to begin with, and one of the stock boys snatched it up before the doors were opened.

And what is this Black Friday Sale scam all about in the first place. Supposedly the Friday after turkey day is when retailers finally come out of red figures and start showing a profit (black figures) on the bottom line for the year because everybody does all their Christmas shopping that day. The way they do this is to sell stuff for less than they paid for it and the buying public rushes in to scarf up all that discounted stuff.

Now, if Congress or the State Legislature made a claim like that, it would be understandable. In other words, in would be business as usual. But in my personal experience, every time I buy a pocket knife for $10.00 and sell it for $5.00, I lose money. Even when I waited until Black Friday to close the deal, something still didn't feel exactly right about it.

So this year, just like the last several, I waited to do most of my shopping on the internet on Cyber Monday. I needed to get my granddaughter a Big Wheel like the one Santa Claus brought her Mommy 35 years ago and I needed to get Loretta some fancy bloomers without being embarrassed while shopping for them in a retail store where some cute little sales assistant would stare me down like I was a dirty old man in there playing with the ladies' unmentionables.

I still have some shopping to do that will get me out and about. I especially like to give gifts that are made in or written by a Kentuckian. I can't think of a town in my readership that doesn't have stores that specialize in or at least offer a variety of locally made crafts, be they small toys, homemade quilts, or high end maple and cherry furniture. For instance, it's worth the trip to Old Towne, Berea, even if you don't spend a nickel.

Christmas would not be Christmas to me if I didn't buy at least one present at my old high school buddy, Terry Fields', Top Drawer Gallery located there on Berea's Broadway in Old Towne in the same neighborhood with over a dozen other artists and craftsmen. Terry has, in my humble opinion, the most diversified selection of Appalachian crafts under one roof in the entire region. Better yet, you can find something that fits almost any budget at Top Drawer, be it hand carved toy figurine, regional cookbook or a high end piece of furniture destined to be an heirloom.

I also like to give at least one of my daughters a ceramic piece of some sort from Tater Knob Pottery which is owned and operated by my good friends, Sarah Culbreth and David Enge, there on Wolf Gap Road a few miles south of Berea. You can usually find David and Sarah busy at their pottery wheels or emptying out a kiln of just-fired spoon bread bowls there behind their display room. Tater Knob is another one of those places that is worth the visit even if you don't buy a thing because just looking is something you will never forget.

The best selection of books by Kentuckians and many other central Appalachian writers is an "on-line" store called Heritage Nook, operated by my friend, Brenda Salyers, in Pound, Virginia. Whether it's very old or very recent fiction, historical or geographic information, a visit to Heritage Nook's website will keep regional book lovers shopping for hours.

I have not included addresses and driving directions to these businesses because you can get all the details you may be looking for by typing any of their names into any internet search engine and find out anything else you might need or want to know. And I am touting these locations only because I know, from decades of experience with them, that the proprietors are beyond courteous and friendly.

But the more important point I would make is that

The Aurora Borealis

Since Kathy and I have both retired, we have been watching some of the science channels on our Dish Network. We recently viewed a piece on how the sun affects our world. A portion of that special took a look at how the Northern Lights are formed. The colors of the video were spectacular. It reminded me of the mere two times that I have witnessed that eerie phenomenon in my lifetime.

My first glimpse of the red-green curtains of light occurred when I was seven-years-old, living with my mother (Bee) in a little house on our small farm. The year was 1951. My grandparents lived approximately one hundred yards from Bee's house on the same plot of land. Occasionally, Bee and I walked over to Pop and Mommie Katie's house for dinner and then walked back home in the dark.

This night was no exception. About half-way to our house, Bee exclaimed, "David Joe, look at the sky! Those are the Northern Lights." I had never seen anything so spectacular in my young life. Bee added, "This is the first time that I have ever witnessed this remarkable sight!"

It looked as if a good portion of the sky was on fire, and the aurora waved back and forth, like curtains. The bright colors changed from red to blue and then back again. Once we had realized what we were looking at, we ran back to Pop's house so that they, too, could witness the show in the sky. Neither Mommie nor Pop had ever seen it before. Like me and Bee, they were spell-bound.

We all watched the rolling curtain of changing lights for a long time. Then, as quickly as it had formed, it slowly vanished into the night sky. I watched for a long time hoping that the display would reappear - but it never did. The show was over.

The science show that Kathy and I were watching explained that the Northern Lights are caused by charged particles, mainly electrons and protons, entering the atmosphere from above, causing consequent optical emissions. These charged particles are the result of storms on the sun or sunspots. The name aurora borealis is named after the Roman goddess of dawn, Aurora, and the Greek name for the north wind, Boreas. The spots are ordinarily visible only in the most northern or southern hemispheres. They also can be seen from the International

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you for Kenna's Kitchen...

Dear Editor,
Kenna's Kitchen was a great success! With the help of MVES staff and community members who volunteered their time, we were able to prepare meals for 1,440 people during the 13th annual community Thanksgiving dinner. This would not be possible without donations and volunteers in Rockcastle County.
We would like to thank the following churches, organizations and businesses for their donations: Earl Bullock, Brindle Ridge Baptist Church, Brodhead Baptist Church, Castle Quilter's Club, Cindy's Place, Citizens' Bank, Citizens' Insurance Group, Climax Water, Coca-Cola, Cornerstone Fellowship

Church, Cox Funeral Home, Dowell & Martin Funeral Home, First Baptist Church, Flat Rock Baptist Church, Freedom Baptist Church, Godfather's Pizza, King Bottling, Marcella's Farm to Fork, McNew Chapel Community Baptist Church, Mimi's General Store, Mount Vernon IGA, Mount Vernon, NAPA, Mount Vernon Signal, New Hope Baptist Church, PBK Bank, People's Bank, RCHS FCCLA, RCHS Key Club, Rockcastle Ambulance Service, Rockcastle Unite Coalition, Save-A-Lot, Rite Aid, Town and Country, Janet Vaughn, Jennifer White's Class, Wildie Christian Church and WRVK Radio.
We do this not only to help others, but also in memory of Kenna Cole Lanham, our school psychologist, who was tragically murdered on October 11, 2001. From our humble beginning in 2001 when we fed 250 community members, our program continues to grow each year.

every time you spend a dollar on something made locally, the more you are making it roll over and contribute to a fragile economy.
Because I grew up on a subsistence farm, I purchase every single thing I can, be it butter, eggs, cheese and produce from an Amish business or family in Crab Orchard or kitchenware from a local potter. I know, from hard experience, how difficult it is to live in a situation where every dollar makes a difference and I can't think of anybody who is getting rich from doing just that. And besides, most stuff that you purchase from a local farmer or craftsman is going to be far better than anything you are apt to find in a big, overcrowded box.

Space Station on a regular basis.
My second experience with the Northern Lights happened in the fall of 1991, shortly after Kathy and I had moved to Furnace Mountain in Powell County. Our friend Larry Jefferson was visiting with us in our home that night, when he decided it was time to leave, we started locking everything up for the evening. Since it was very late, Kathy and I retired to our bedroom. But nearly as soon as we reached the top of the stairs, we heard a loud knock at our front door. It was Larry. Almost breathless, he rushed past us into the kitchen, exclaiming, "We have to go out on your deck, it's the Northern Lights! We all rushed to our deck and saw the flickering colors putting on a wild display. On that occasion, the colors were green and red. The view was totally different from the one that I had seen in 1951 — exactly forty years earlier.

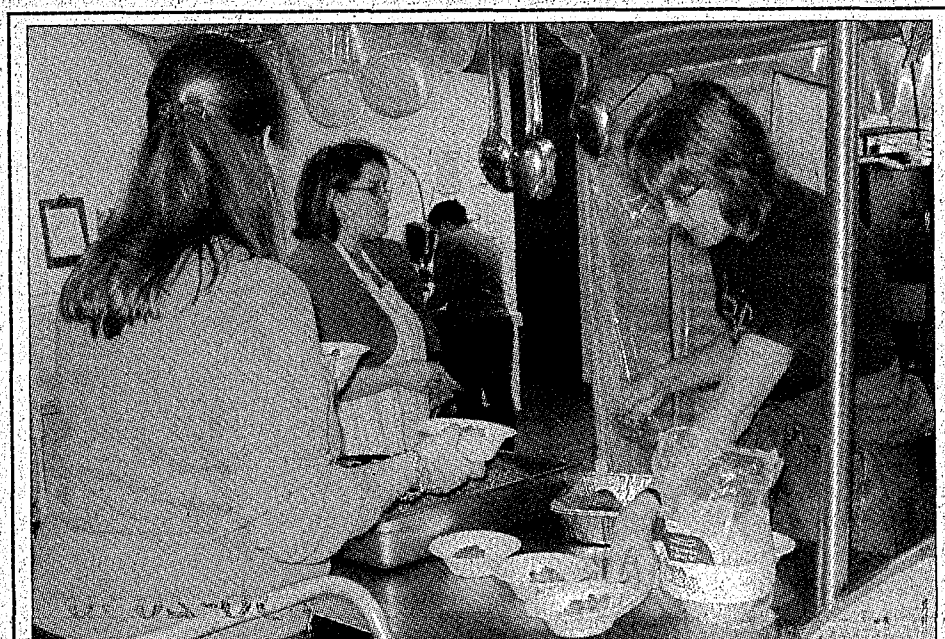

Kathy and I were so thankful that we were able to witness this rare sight at our home. We both had studied about the aurora and had watched film about it on television, but we had never believed for a minute that we would be able to see the aurora together in person — especially this far south.
As we watched in the cold night air, the lights eventually began to fade. It was the first time and only time that my wife had seen the northern lights. Almost as quickly as they appeared, they vanished to never be seen again in that exact spot.
I feel very blessed to have witnessed the Northern Lights twice in my lifetime. Most people never get the chance to see this strange light show. I will never forget either aurora — no matter how long I live. But I'm still hoping that I will get to see another before all is said and done.

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

The Making of Martha Washington's Great Cake
Dear Journal,
Tomorrow night is the annual DAR Christmas dinner. One of the members, Sheila Neal-Leger, is the hostess this year. Her theme is an Colonial Christmas. All of the other ladies are to bring a side dish that would have been served in colonial America over two hundred years ago.
For most of the ladies, it is proving to be quite the challenge. The dishes served, the ingredients and the preparation are all vastly different from the culinary fare of today.
I have a copy of Martha Washington's cookbook, but looking through the DAR magazine, American Spirit, a few days ago I found a recipe for "Martha Washington's Great Cake".

It was a favorite of the Washingtons. They were married on January 6, 1759, on what is known as Twelfth Night. Martha always served the cake on their anniversary and may have served it as their wedding cake as well, I highly speculate.
In the colonial days, Christmas wasn't widely celebrated as it is today, with some not recognizing the holiday at all. However, Twelfth Night was more readily recognized as marking the end of the winter holiday season, beginning on November 1st as All Hallows Eve and ending with Twelfth Night on the evening of January 5th according to Tudor England tradition. The celebration was a feast and merry-making.

Yards to Paradise

By Max Phelps
Uncommon Trees Make Your Yard Different

The big neighborhood nursery may want homeowner customers to equate high-dollar exquisite specimen trees as the way to have an uncommon yard that will look lovely and get you noticed. But there are many paths to an uncommon but outstanding landscape. I am going to suggest some lesser known and lesser used trees that perhaps you'd be proud to have in your yard.

Everyone thinks of a maple tree when they start thinking about some bigger trees for the yard. And, let's agree, there are some lovely maples in most neighborhoods.

We will go beyond maples, but if a maple tree you require, how about a sugar maple, or the related black maple or caddo maple? Maybe a big leaf maple or a Caucasian maple? Or the snakebark or redvein vine maple for that smaller spot shaded by the house or by a larger existing tree? There are some exotic maples from Asia that might also work, including an evergreen maple and one whose leaves look like an elm.

Oak trees are pretty popular for larger yards. But why settle for pin oaks when there are dozens of landscape-quality oak species? While you may have to search to locate unusual kinds, settling for pin or willow oaks like one of the neighbors has shouldn't be an automatic reaction if an oak is in your future. There is red oak and shumard and scarlet oak for red fall colors. There is white oak and chinquapin oak for the tastiest nuts. Laurel oak would be different. Cork oak might grow where you live. Certainly the English oak is lovely. And the burr oak is mighty in stature. You might try the Chinese evergreen oak if you can find one, it is hardy to minus 5 or 10 degrees.

Tulip poplar, sweet gum, American basswood, and the native American elm are all large trees good in the right place. The native elm has been hybridized to be tolerant to elm diseases, and the zelkova is a reasonable substitute. Ginkgo trees become large in time, and even bear edible nuts if you can find a female tree for sale. Beech trees grow large and also are lovely in the appropriate setting. Hackberry trees and wild black cherry trees are appropriate for the large lot, but the berries do make a bit of a mess if they are planted near the driveway, patio or pool. Not everyone thinks things out for fifty years, but a river birch can become a log four feet in circumference. And catalpa is a lovely tree, except for the mess when the beans fall. Same can be said for the Kentucky coffee tree.

Some more modest sized trees that might work fine in the landscape could be some of these. Sassafras, sourwood, silverbell or American holly for acid soils with good drainage. The rare Ben Franklin and Henry Wilson trees would be welcome in most yards. And, of course, the dogwoods. How about stuartia, parrotia, katsura, mountain ash and amalanchiers...and for soil with more limestone try redbud trees, snowbell, yellowwood and maybe Osage orange (be aware of thorns and big ole' fruits).

If evergreen trees are on your wish list for your yard, here are some that will work. For the neutral or alkaline soils, go with junipers, cedars, arborvitae, blue spruce or Douglas fir. For acidic soils, white pine and hemlock trees come to mind. But also, southern magnolias, Canaan and coneolor fir trees, and perhaps a laurel tree or a giant redwood if you are in climate zone 7. The Norway spruce seems to adapt well to most soils except really wet ones that don't drain. Same for cryptomerias and false cypress.

Nannyberry, blackhaw and Allegheny viburnum as well as winterberry and possum haw hollies can have a lovely spot in the landscape and draw wildlife too. A very lovely small tree is the pawpaw, and if you plant more than one so they cross pollinate you will get some desirable half pound sized fruits that taste like banana custard or a bit like a honeydew.

Shrubs really come in hundreds of options and I am going to save a discussion on unusual shrubbery for another topic and another day.

Something that always strikes me as a bit queer is that the large homes often have the same scheme as some other home on the street or around the block. Uncommon, expensive trees in front of every nice home in the neighborhood actually makes them look common. So, if you want to think outside the box in landscaping your lovely home, you might actually get noticed by being different, even if you don't spend forty thousand to landscape a $300,000 home. Pleasing landscapes can be created using native trees or just some that are different from the other guys. Diversify is a good word in landscaping just as it is in financial or retirement planning. If you desire to have a different looking landscape, find a designer who knows and loves plants to mold your yard into a paradise.

ing. Wassail was usually served. The feature item was a cake with a bean hidden in it. Whoever found the bean ruled the feast. Twelfth Night always fell on January 6th, twelve days after Christmas. It is said to be the baptism of Christ as well as when the Magi first saw Christ.

The cake recipe calls for, among other things, candied orange and lemon peel, currants, French brandy, and Madeira wine. I've looked locally and even called other stores in the area. I've found almost every kind of dried or candied fruit but currants. Evidently, they were common back in the 1700s and 1800s, as I've seen them listed as an ingredient in other recipes. Although I have had a lot of humorous moments in explaining what a currant is to young twenty-something male employees. I'd say, "It's something like a raisin." They'd say, thinking I was old, senile, and in need of some, "Oh, you mean a prune." I'd have to say, "No, no. C-u-r-r-a-n-t-s, like a raisin."

I've been having problems finding the other ingredients, too, so I guess I'll have to substitute here and there. I've relinquished the idea of having an authentic "Great Cake", so I'll have to settle for the "Tonya Cook's Very Impressive Cake".

I couldn't readily locate an imported Madeira wine or French brandy, but a good sweet red wine and a hearty snort of Maker's Mark may suffice. Who knows, after a slice or two of my cake it may be "Great", too. Wish me luck. I'm to begin the baking later this afternoon.

On Thursday evening, November 20th, RATC Welding students Justin Barron, Josh Greenwell, and Toby Lawson traveled to Harrodsburg for the Central Kentucky Welding Classic. They competed against 17 other schools from across Kentucky. The competition involved various welding, print reading, and cutting operations. Senior Justin Barron placed 5th out of 54 students. Instructor, Sherman Cook would like to commend team "Bueno Gatos Leer" on a job well done.

Once officers arrived, they noticed Caldwell reaching into the driver's side window of Jones' truck to hand him money. Caldwell told officers that he had two pills inside his coat pocket and officers found two Oxycodone tablets on Caldwell at the time of his arrest.

After searching Jones' vehicle, officers found a prescription bottle for Oxycodone in Jones' name that had been filled on Wednesday with a quantity of 90 Oxycodone pills. However, officers noticed there were only 63 pills in the bottle at the time of the traffic stop.

Upon further investigation, officers observed that the two Oxycodone pills found on Caldwell were the same pills inside Jones' prescription bottle. Officers also noted that the drug transaction took place within 1,000 feet of the Rockcastle County Middle School.

Jones was charged with first degree trafficking in a controlled substance and trafficking in a controlled substance within 1,000 feet of a school. Caldwell was charged with two counts of first degree possession of a controlled substance.

Both Jones and Caldwell were lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center. Jones remains lodged on a $5,000 cash/property bond and Caldwell was released on a $5,000 unsecured bond.

The Climax Fire Department responded to a chain saw accident last Saturday in on Hwy 1912 in the Climax Community. Authorities say Steve Blackwell, 43, of Orlando was cutting firewood when a tree split causing the chainsaw to cut Blackwell's right leg. Firefighters had to set up a landing zone in a nearby field so Blackwell could be airlifted to the UK Medical Center. Firemen Ken Holt and Brian Wynn of the Climax Fire Department are shown above assisting EMS personnel Devon Mason and Matalie McClan with loading Blackwell on the helicopter.

Former Deputy Sheriff Matt Bryant, who was in charge of the investigation, said that Kisse was stoned with large rocks then buried under large rocks and left for dead. He said there was also evidence of Kisse being held against his will and dragged.

Bryant said that Kisse was buried under the large rocks for approximately two to three hours before being found. He also said that Kisse was missing approximately $700 in cash and several other personal items when he was found.

After further investigation, Bryant said that Kisse was last seen with Gambrel before the incident occurred. He said Gambrel and Kisse were both employees at a pallet manufacturing company in Somerset at the time of the incident.

Investigators discovered other evidence that suggested Gambrel was in "close proximity" of Kisse and the abandoned rock quarry at the time of the incident.

In court last Wednesday, Gambrel admitted to striking Kisse in the head with a rock and that it was over "money and drugs."

Gambrel remains lodged in the Rockcastle County

SOLUTION TO KY659

Bible Talk

In 1 Thess. 5:23 we read, "And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly, and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." This month we want to study about the threefold nature of man.

Body- Man's body is made from the dust of the ground. In Gen.2:7 we read, "And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." Man was made from the common elements that come from the earth. The word "formed" suggests the idea of a potter squeezing and shaping clay to make a pot or a sculpture. Even so, God formed Adam's body from the earth. God took the dust of the ground, adding about three parts water (we are about 75% water) he formed the man. The body we live in now is mortal, that is, it is subject to death. "Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." Eccl.12:7.

Soul- Man also has "soul" that is, animal life, vitality. Notice in Genesis 2:7, and man became a living soul. The same word is used again in Genesis 2:19, "And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Adam to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof." The phrase "living creature" is the same word as in Gen.2:7, "living soul." Man has "life, breath, vitality" just like the animals. At times in the scriptures "soul" is used to refer to the inward man that which is made in the image of God (a synonym of spirit).

Spirit- Zech.12:1 says the Lord "formeth the spirit of man within him." The word "formeth" is the same word used as in Genesis 2:7, where God formed the body. Even so, God formed man's spirit, i.e., molded and shaped it as a potter would clay. Man's spirit bears the image of God. Gen.1:27, "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." We look like God in that we have intelligence, emotions, and the power of choice. Animals do not possess these qualities, but man does, and this makes man unique. Since we have a will, the power to choose, we are morally accountable creatures. Inasmuch as we all have sinned, Rom.3:23, we all need redemption. Some day we will face God in the day of judgment, Heb.9:27. Are you ready for that day? You can be in Christ!

We invite you to study and worship with us at the Providence church of Christ.

Rockets lose, 76-63, to North Laurel

By: Doug Ponder

The Rockcastle County Rockets boys varsity basketball team lost their season-opener Tuesday night to the North Laurel Jaguars 76-63.

The final score wasn't really representative of the game as the score remained within 10 points or less for the majority of the game. The game featured two ties and four lead changes with both teams overcoming large deficits to get back into the game.

The Rockets came out firing on all cylinders in the first quarter jumping out to an early 17-9 lead. But the Jaguars fought back with an 11-0 run, eventually tying the game at 17-17 and then leading the Rockets 20-17 at the end of the first quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter, Sophomore Carson Noble went up to catch a pass under the goal and landed awkwardly on his left knee. Noble had to be helped off the court and didn't play for the rest of the game. Meanwhile, the Jaguars extended their lead to 39-25 at the half.

After halftime, the Rockets came out of the locker room hustling and playing with aggression and put together an 11-0 run, cutting the Jaguar lead to 39-36 with six minutes left on the clock in the third quarter. The Rockets then tied the game at 43-43 with a little over three minutes left on the clock, but the Jaguars came back and were ahead 52-45 at the end of the third quarter.

The Rockets comeback fell short as the Jaguars put the game away in the fourth quarter by a final score of 76-63.

The Rockets were led in scoring by sophomore Lucas Gentry with 21 points, senior Dakota Hasty was next with 16, senior Sam Pensol got 11, sophomore Carson Noble and junior Dylan Rowe scored 4 each, sophomore John Cornelius got 3 and senior Carter Blanton and freshman Nick Dillingham had 2 points each.

Head Coach Benny Blanton said that he was pleased with how hard his team played against a talented and tall North Laurel team.

"It's hard as a coach to be disappointed in a team that hustled and played hard like they all did. We played well at times in the game and not so well at other times," Blanton said. "The thing is, if we could consistently play like we did at the beginning of the first quarter, we could put ourselves in the driver's seat to win a lot of big games this year."

At press time, Blanton said Noble was still being examined at the UK Sports Clinic in Lexington and that the extent of the injury to his left knee was unknown.

"I'm hoping that it's nothing worse than a hyperextended knee and that he might be out for no more than a couple of games. That might be wishful thinking but that's what I'm hoping," Blanton said. "After Carson got hurt it took the wind out of our team for a little bit. Hopefully it isn't a major injury and he will be back on the court soon."

The Rockets next game is this Thursday night at home when they take on the Lincoln County Patriots at 7:30 p.m. with freshman and jayvee games preceding the varsity game.

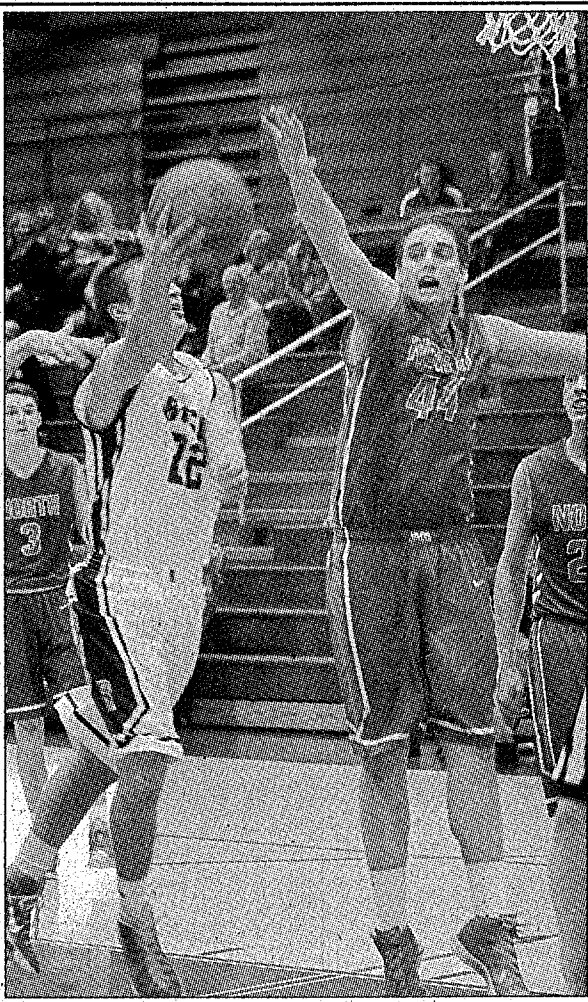

Blanton said the Patriots are an experienced and talented team with a lot of depth at every position. He said they pose an entirely different threat than they faced against North Laurel.

"They are not as big and tall as North Laurel but they are quick and rely more on guard play. They have seven seniors returning, including guards Timmy Taylor and Jacob Conway, who will both play basketball at the next level," Blanton said. "We will have to try and slow the game down and play at a slower tempo than we usually do so we can try to throw them off their game. If we play at a fast pace with them, the game could get out of hand for us real quick."

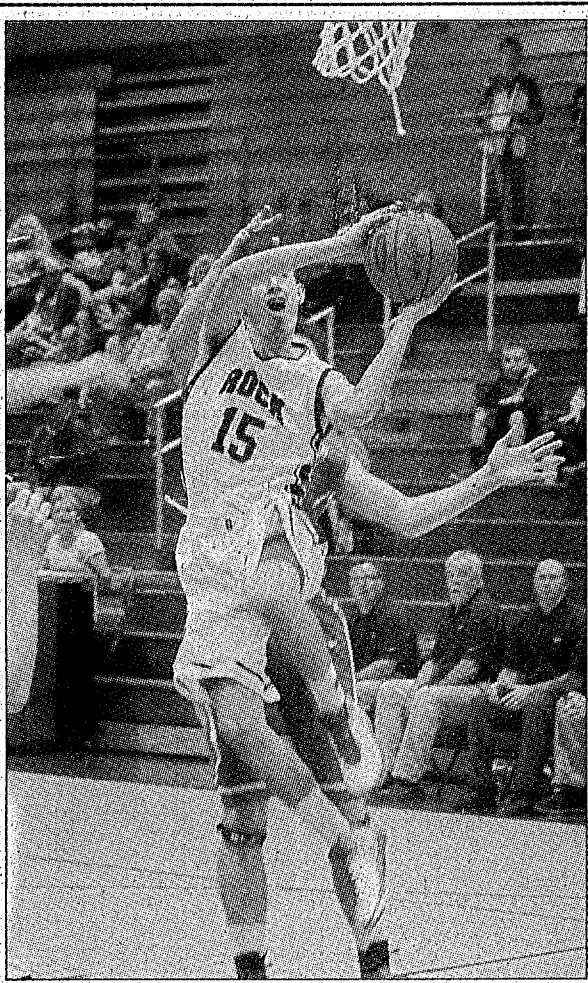

At halftime of the varsity game Thursday night, all members of the 1,000 point club will be honored, including members who played for Livingston High School, Mt. Vernon, High School, Brodhead High School and RCHS. Members of the 2002 and 2004 boys basketball teams that advanced to the KHSAA State Tourneys, by winning the 13th Region, will also be recognized.

Blake Mullins and Cody Burton are seniors on the Rockets varsity basketball team that were not included in the Rockets Sports Preview special edition last week. The Rockets began regular season play Tuesday night.

John Cornelius attempts a lay-up in the Rockets - North Laurel game Tuesday night.

Dylan Rowe goes up for a basket during the Rockets 76-63 loss Tuesday night. The Rockets next game is this Thursday night at home when they take on the Lincoln County Patriots at 8 p.m.

Lady Rockets drop home opener to DHS

The Rockcastle Lady Rockets dropped their season-opener Monday to the Lady Admirals of Danville 62-52.

The Rockets were up 15-10 at the end of the first quarter but the Lady Ads then went on a 10 to 0 run to take the lead 20-15. The Rockets fought back and had a one point lead at the half 30-29.

However, the Rockets came out cold in the second half and turned the ball over several times, giving the Lady Ads the lead 37-30 before a basket by senior Amelia Eversole at the 4:15 mark.

Down 44-40 at the third quarter stop, the Rockets steadily fell behind in the fourth quarter for the final 62-52.

10 Lady Rockets saw action with nine of them getting into the scoring column, none in double figures.

Junior Morgan Renner, who scored the Rockets first seven points of the game, got into early foul trouble, ended up leading the scoring with nine points. Junior Ashley McKinney and sophomore Emily Payne each got 8; sophomore Hope Kelley had 7; seniors Alaina Coguer and Amelia Eversole each scored 6; sophomore Jayna Albright got 5 and sophomores Emme Barker and Mattie Bullen got 2 and 1 points, respectively.

The Rockets were 13 of 19 from the free throw line and Danville was 15 of 30.

The Lady Rockets Jayvee team came out on top of their Danville counterparts in the opening game, 52-37.

The Rockets were down 10-9 at the first quarter stop and 25-15 at the half.

However, a good third quarter for the Rockets put them up 35-29 at the third quarter stop and they added to their lead in the fourth for the final 52-37.

Sophomore Mattie Bullen led the scoring with 10 points; Sophomores Emily Payne and Hope Kelley got 7 along with 7th grader Shelby Newland. Freshman Emily Adams got 6; 7th grader McKenzie Himes also scored 6; sophomore Caroline Coguer got 3 and freshman Jordyn Powell scored 2.

The Lady Rockets next game will be Friday night, Dec. 5th when they will host the Lincoln County Lady Patriots. There will be three games, with the freshman game beginning at 5:15 p.m.

At half time of the varsity game, all members of the 1,000 point club and members of players who played on the regional championship teams of 1997, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2008, 2010 and 2011 will be recognized.

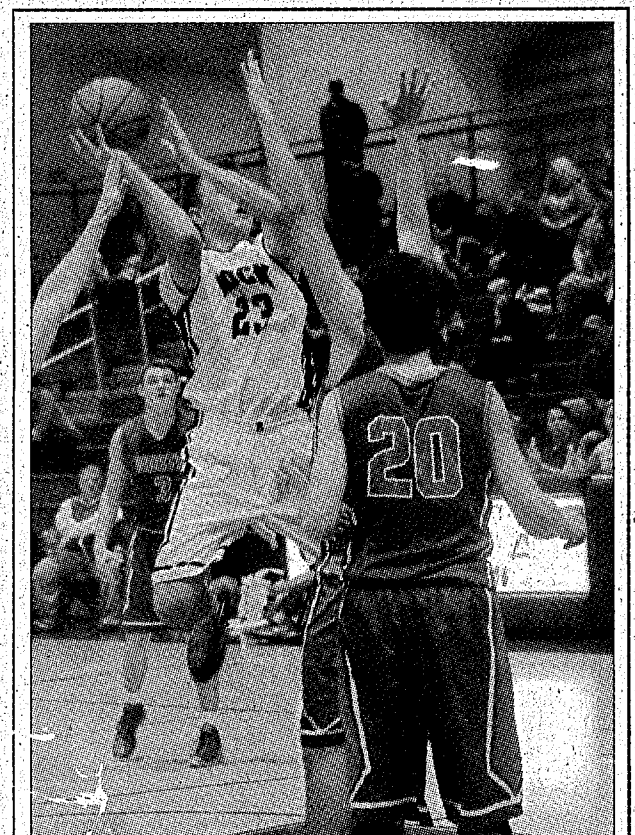

Following the Lincoln County game, the Lady Rockets will travel to North Laurel on Monday night, Dec. 8th for a girls jayvee, varsity game and to Mercer County on Tuesday night for a doubleheader with the boys team. The girls will play the first game.

Kentucky Afield Outdoors

Waterfowl season looks promising for 2014-15

The holiday commercials already swamping our collective brains along with winds straight from the North Pole remind us that short-sleeve weather is now months away. Winter is here.

Waterfowl hunters don't see these developments as bad news. They are getting their bags of decoys out of storage, cleaning and oiling shotguns and practicing their calling. Waterfowl season, for both ducks and geese, opens Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27.

Waterfowl habitat across Kentucky is in good shape and the recent cold snap shouldn't greatly impact the upcoming opener. "It is dried out a little bit, we could use some more rain, but everything still looks good," said Rocky Pritchert, migratory bird program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Pritchert said the severe cold likely drove some of the early migrating ducks such as northern pintails, gadwalls and ring-necked ducks further south. "When the weather moderates, we'll see some birds come back to Kentucky and those still here will rearrange," he said. "There are still plenty of birds in the state."

Hunters are reminded of some changes to waterfowl hunting regulations for the 2015-2016 waterfowl seasons. Canada goose hunters in the Northeastern Goose Zone now have an additional 10 days to hunt with the season opening Dec. 20, 2014 and closing Jan. 31, 2015.

Waterfowlers hunting Kentucky River Wildlife Management Area (WMA) in Owen and Henry counties, including the newly acquired Boone Tract, must cease hunting at 2 p.m. Hunters using the Powell's Lake Unit of Sloughs WMA may now conduct walk-in hunting during the upcoming waterfowl seasons.

Duck numbers continue to increase with excellent reproduction over the last year. The total duck population numbers released by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service show a record 49.2 million ducks, an 8 percent increase over last year and a 43 percent increase over the long term average from 1955 to 2013. Mallards again are the most numerous duck species with 10.9 million birds in the population, an increase of 5 percent from last year.

Farm ponds and small lakes are great spots for early season duck hunting. These habitat types don't require a hunter own dozens of decoys, a boat or other expensive equipment. A few decoys, a pile of brush to crouch behind and an affordable pump shotgun put ducks in the bag. A small pond of an acre or less or a deep, slow pool of a creek often requires no decoy spread at all. Hunters can find great shooting with the first arriving ducks in the morning with not a decoy in sight.

Be sure and scout potential waters for duck use before the season.

The resident population of Canada goose is roughly 40,000 birds and along with an increasing number of migrating birds should provide ample opportunity.

Pritchert said ideal weather for goose hunting is cold weather to the north of Kentucky with weather here warm enough to keep water from freezing.

"For goose hunting, a good snow line that comes down and barely touches the Ohio River tends to push a lot of geese down this way for a period of 10 to 14 days," he said. The general areas around power plants along the Ohio River are Canada goose hunting hot spots.

The Bluegrass Region of Kentucky offers productive hunting for Canada goose. "Most of our Canada goose harvest comes from central Kentucky," said John Brunjes, migratory bird biologist for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "Field hunting is the best hunting for Canada goose. Use field decoys, laydown blinds or dig a pit."

Canada goose feed in harvested crop fields. "You must scout," Brunjes said. "Goose hunting is about knowing where the birds are feeding. Put yourself where the birds want to go. If you get there early before the birds, you'll have good hunting. If you get there after the birds, you won't."

You'll need a valid Kentucky hunting license, Kentucky migratory game bird-waterfowl permit and a federal waterfowl permit, commonly called a duck stamp, for waterfowl hunting.

For more information on waterfowl hunting regulations, areas to hunt or other information, consult a copy of the 2014-2015 Kentucky Hunting Guide for Waterfowl, available free wherever hunting licenses are sold. You may print a copy from the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife website at fw.ky.gov or request one by calling 1-800-858-1549.

couple of landowners that live between the two bridges. If they worked on both of them at the same time they wouldn't be able to get out."

Carloftis said that reconstruction of the two bridges will be paid in full under the Federal Bridge Replacement Program and that both bridges cost approximately $250,000 each. He said contractors hope to have both bridges reconstructed by the summer of 2015.

Carloftis went on to say that the state originally sent the county $200,000 for their share of replacing the two bridges with the remaining cost of the construction coming from county funds. However, he said the county chose the option to have the bridges reconstructed under the federal program at no cost to the county or state.

"If we decided to do it on our own, the bridges would have been completed earlier which was the positive to that option," Carloftis said.

"But the downside to that option is the remaining costs, after the $200,000, would have to come from county funds and out of the county taxpayers' pockets."

Kentucky Transportation Cabinet Information Officer Amber Hale said the fourth bridge, on Hwy. 1786 from Hwy 25 was condemned last February after inspectors determined, in a routine bridge inspection, that the bridge was rapidly deteriorating at a pace that was considered unsafe for drivers.

Hale said inspectors ordered the third bridge on Hwy 1786 from Hwy 25 be reduced from a 10 ton bridge to a 3 ton bridge. She said the tonnage limit was ordered last February to prevent the bridge from deteriorating at a more rapid pace.

Hale went on to say there are four bridges on Hwy 1786 and only the first two bridges on the road are maintained by the state transportation department. She said the third and fourth bridges on the road are maintained by the county but are inspected by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet.

Experience holiday events at Kentucky Artisan Center

On Saturday, Dec. 6, visitors to the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea will experience the arts through demonstrations, book signings and music as Wyman Rice, of Lexington, demonstrates his sculptural hand-built pottery, Stephen M. Vest and James B. Goode sign copies of Kentucky's Twelve Days of Christmas, and musicians Kyle Meadows and Tisa McGraw, of Cold Spring, fill the air with holiday favorites.

From 10:30 to 3:30 that Saturday, Wyman Rice will create hand-built pottery from slabs and coils of clay. Working without a potter's wheel, he constructs his sculptural pieces one at a time. Clay is rolled out into sheets, allowed to stiffen, and then joined together to create unique and organic forms. Rice also builds with coils of clay, shaping and finishing each form by hand.

Looking to nature and the human figure for inspiration, Rice fires most of his work using the raku firing process. This process requires the pottery to be glazed and fired very quickly, removed immediately from the kiln while red hot, and either plunged into water, or placed into combustible materials, such as sawdust or shredded newspaper.

"The Raku firing process creates finished surfaces that can be quite colorful," he said, "with the clay itself becoming a charcoal gray or black."

Rice's works are regularly featured at the Kentucky Artisan Center, and he has a hand-built teapot titled, "Industrial Teapot # 4" in the center's current exhibit, "Put a Lid On It," on display through Feb. 28, 2015.

On Dec. 6, James B. Goode and Stephen M. Vest, editor and publisher of Kentucky Monthly magazine will sign copies of the holiday anthology Kentucky's Twelve Days of Christmas from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. This hardbound book includes works from Kentucky writers Harriette Arnow, Wendell Berry, Irvin S. Cobb, James B. Goode, Stephen M. Vest, Frank X. Walker, Robert Penn Warren, Crystal Wilkinson and many more.

Also Dec. 6, Kyle Meadows and Tisa McGraw will perform holiday music on hammer dulcimer and Celtic harp in informal sets from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Center.

Both Meadows and McGraw have been playing music for most of their lives. Born in North Carolina, Meadows began his career in music as a child, learning to play the piano by ear. As a teenager, he taught himself how to play the hammer dulcimer and now has been playing for over 20 years. He is known locally and nationally as a hammer dulcimer musician and has appeared on stage with such musicians and groups as Mark O'Conner, Homer Ledford and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

McGraw also began playing the piano as a small child. She played electric bass with a rock 'n' roll band for many years before turning to the world of harp music. McGraw has been playing the Celtic harp for 15 years, gaining a reputation for her delicate and beautiful handling of the instrument, doubtlessly influenced by her years of practice as a massage therapist.

As a duo, Meadows and McGraw have been performing together eight years and have played a variety of events from coffeehouses to concert halls.

Ceramics by Rice, Kentucky Monthly books and recordings by Meadows and McGraw are regularly available at the Kentucky Artisan Center, located at 200 Artisan Way, just off Interstate 75 at Berea Exit 77. The center's exhibits, shopping and travel and information areas are open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the cafe is open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Admission is free.

'Miracle on Chestnut Street' is Dec. 6

By Machaela Ballard
Register News Writer

The Berea Chamber of Commerce will host its 29th annual Twilight Christmas Parade on Dec. 6 at 6 p.m. on Chestnut and Main Streets in Berea.

Also in conjunction with the parade is Christmas bazaar, which will be in two locations, College Square and Chestnut Street Square Park, from 1 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Visitors of the Bazaar can purchase food and beverages, shop for Christmas-themed gifts and holiday items.

Between shopping at the bazaar, the parade will pass by. This year's theme is "Miracle on Chestnut Street."

Because Berea College is located on Chestnut Street, which the parade will also be traveling on, the name couldn't have fit better, said Brandi Anderson, the chamber's administrative assistant.

"It couldn't have worked out better," Anderson said. "The name is a classic attribution to an old classic film but it also leaves a lot of room for interpretation."

One business preparing a float told Anderson that they were going to put an above-ground pool on their float to stick with the theme, she said. When she asked how it was related, they told her it was a miracle that a pool could drive down the road, she said.

Winners of the home and business decorating contest will be announced at the square following the parade. All locations of homes entered in the contest can be found on the chamber's website for self-guided tours after the parade.

Applications to register a float is $20 and can be found on the chamber's website along with a list of homes entered in the decorating contest at bereachamber.com. For details, call 986-9760.

Santa will phone good kids in Berea

BEREA PARKS AND RECREATION IS LOOKING FOR CAROLING VOLUNTEERS

By Machaela Ballard
Register News Writer

Santa will be calling children in Berea from 3 to 7 p.m. on Dec. 9, and will be reading books around Berea from Dec. 15 through 18.

With help from Berea volunteer firefighters, Santa will make free calls to anyone who has registered with the Berea Parks and Recreation Department by Dec. 8.

Recreation Director Priscilla Bloom said Santa's phone calls are her favorite Christmas activity.

At the time of the calls, Bloom said, "Santa has already talked to parents and grandparents setting up the calls, but he wants to make that special phone call to the children who best experience his magic," Bloom said.

Santa will know if a child has scraped his knee, gotten a new baby brother or sister or earned good grades in school, Bloom said, when he talks to the children. He will also know if they are on the naughty or nice list, of course, Bloom added.

The jolly old elf himself also will make appearances around Berea with help from the library, Bloom said.

"What says Christmas more than hearing a story from Santa?" Bloom said. "Nowadays, people are so busy rushing and buying and finding the right deals that they forget to stop and enjoy the season. Hearing a story from the source really is a great way to do that."

To find Santa's location, visit the Berea Parks and Recreation Facebook page.

Berea Parks and Recreation is also looking for caroling volunteers. Dec. 2 between 5 and 7 p.m., the department, along with their recruits, will be traveling from The Terrace nursing home, on Brooklyn Street and end at the Russel Acton Folk Center.

To volunteer or arrange a call from Santa, call 986-9402.

"Handmade gifts are special because they are unique," said Brittany Toombs, Richmond Parks and Recreation Department event organizer.

The craft show will have handmade wreaths, ornaments, toys, jewelry and so much more, Toombs said.

'Night of Twinkling Lights' coming Dec. 5

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

A Richmond Christmas tradition will take place on Dec. 5, from 7 to 9 p.m. The Christmas parade is always one of the biggest events in Madison County, and it also is known as one of the states longest and brightest parades.

"It is one night that everyone in our community comes together to celebrate Christmas, admire the hard work that people have put into floats, and gear up our Christmas spirit for the holidays," Lori Tatum, Director of Tourism said.

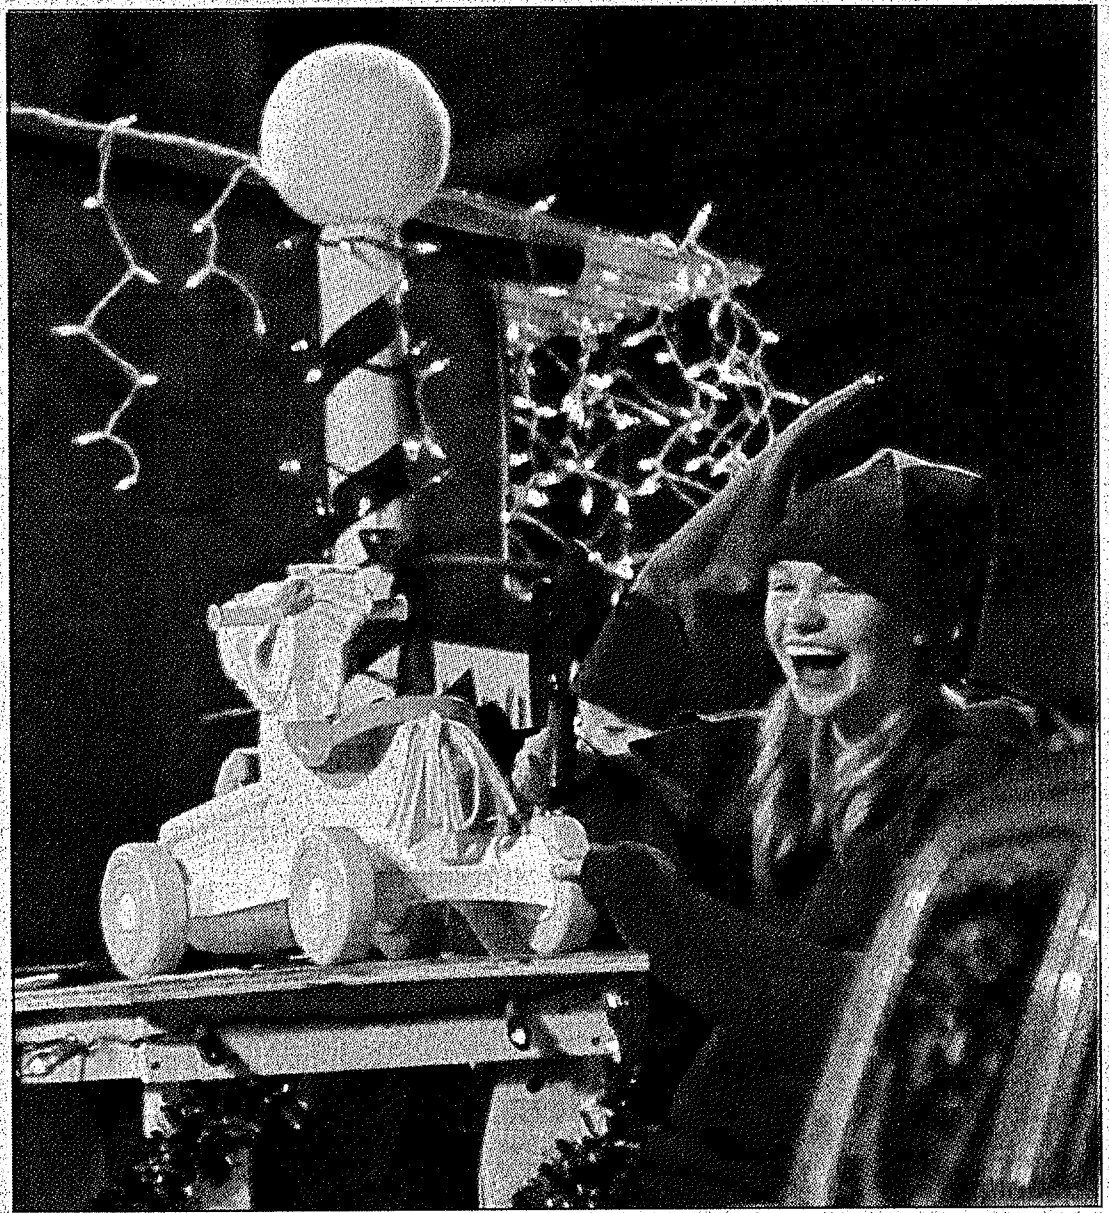

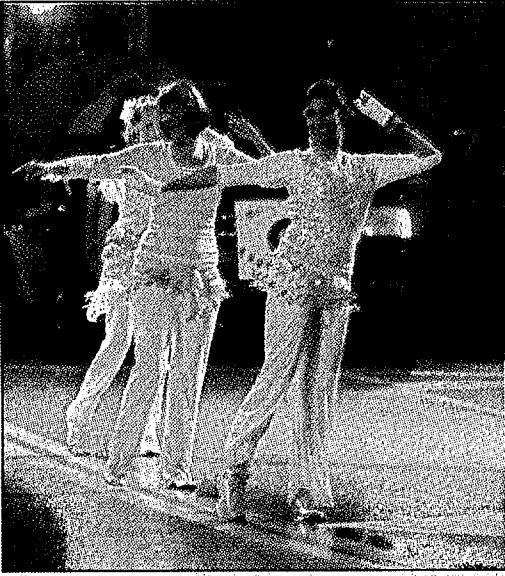

Every year, the parade has more than 100 float entries, and this year, Tatum said she believes it will just keep getting bigger. This year, the theme is a Night of Twinkling Lights.

"There is always a Santa Claus at the end of the parade, and different organizations come together to show their creativity on the floats," Tatum said. "It's so neat to just watch it all come together, and it ends up looking so great. We were among the first cities to do a lighted parade, in the evening time, so it's always exciting to see what ideas people add to their floats."

Floats can be registered up until the day of the parade, and the parade will also be shown live on local access Channel 12. Public safety will be on the scene to keep traffic under control so that the parade will move smoothly.

"The sidewalks are always packed on Main Street," Tatum said. "This is the most wonderful time of the year."

North Pole has hotline to Richmond

FAMILIES CAN GET A EARLY VISIT FROM SAINT NICK

By Machaela Ballard
Register News Writer

Santa has again asked the Richmond Parks and Recreation Department to help organize some of his phone calls, letter-writing and visits this year.

A phone call from the North

Pole's Santa Hotline is free. All children ages 10 and under in Madison County can speak to Mr. Claus during the week between Dec. 1-12.

Also available are letters from Santa, sent to any child in Madison County. At $5 per child, all personalized letters will be sent by Dec. 12.

For any child who lives within the city limits, Santa would like to come visit with and meet the children he serves during Christmas. For $10 per child, Santa will appear at homes in Richmond between Dec. 9 and 11 from 6 to 9 p.m.

"The visits aren't something every child gets to see in their lifetime. It's a really special opportunity for families," said Brittany Toombs, the Parks and Recreation event coordinator.

"There is nothing like Christmas. It's such a special time of year," Toombs said. "Being able to talk with Santa adds to that excitement."

Forms for letters, phone calls and visits can be found at the parks website at parks.richmond.ky.us, as well as the Richmond Chick-fil-A and the Bounce House. The deadline to register for all Santa Express services is Dec. 5.

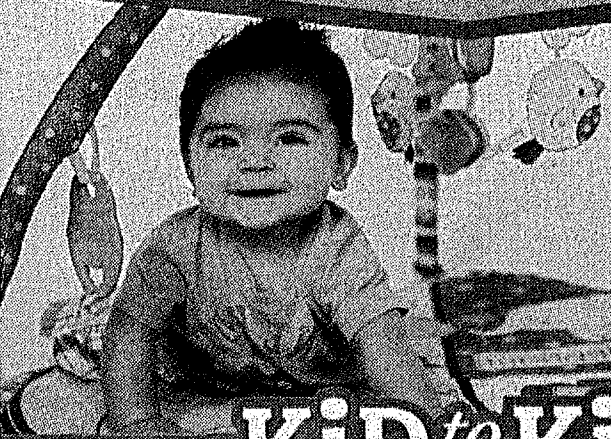

Payment can be made through the mail, dropped off at the form locations into the provided, locked mailboxes or paid online with a minimal processing fee at the parks website.

SANTA COMING FOR BREAKFAST DEC. 6 AT RAAC

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

During the holiday season, kids want to do one thing, and that is to tell Santa Claus what they want for Christmas. On Dec. 6, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., at the Richmond Area Arts Council, located at 399 West Water Street, children will have the chance to have breakfast with Santa. "Professional pictures will be taken and sent out via email after the breakfast so that the family can share this experience with friends," said Deborah Kidd, RAAC executive director. "There will be a puppet show and craft time along with the breakfast as well."

The children will have the choice of making a pine cone ornament, holiday treat bag, a reindeer or snowman during craft time.

"Last year the children loved Santa so much, that after they made their crafts they couldn't wait to give them to him," Kidd said. "It is just a wonderful event for the community and I like it when one of our events becomes a staple in our community."

The breakfast is $8 per person, which includes the photograph, breakfast, craft time and other fun events that will be taking place during that time.

"I think it is a very small amount of money for everything that they get that day," Kidd said. "This is our fourth year and we absolutely love it. It grows every year, and I am so glad that we can keep the smiles on the children's faces."

Students between the grades one and 10 in Madison and surrounding counties will be coming together to perform a Christmas concert. On Dec. 1, at 7 p.m., the Treble Clef Youth Chorus, will be singing at Grand Hall of the Richmond Area Arts Center, located at 399 W. Water Street.

"If you want to start your holiday season on the right foot come hear the angels sing. This concert is guaranteed to bring joy to your heart and put a smile on your face. The students are an extremely talented group of young people who are eager to share their music with you," said Deborah Kidd, director of the Treble Clef Youth Chorus.

The concert also will feature guest conductor Uriah Tolbert, a music specialist at Yates Elementary School in Lexington, and accompanist Dr.

Bernardo Scarambone, assistant professor of piano at Eastern Kentucky University.

Repertoire for this concert includes Christmas...In About Three Minutes arranged by Mark Weston; Christmas Is for Children arranged by Mark Hayes; Peace Like A River arranged and composed by Douglas Beam; Blue Skies by Irving Berlin; Let It Go and Do You Want to Build a Snowman? from Disney's animated feature Frozen composed by Kristen Anderson-Lopez and Robert Lopez; and a beautiful Zulu lullaby entitled Thula S'Thandwa arranged by Nick Page. The concert will also feature solos by some of the chorus members.

Donations are appreciated and will be used to support the outstanding youth who are part of the Treble Clef Youth Chorus, and their gift of music. For more information, call 859-624-4242 or email debbie@artsinrichmond.org.

Richmond firefighters are also Santa's helpers

Richmond firefighters become Santa's helpers at Christmas.

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

From now until Dec. 10, the Richmond firefighters club will be encouraging people to sign children up for their annual toy drive. For the past 50-plus years, the firefighters have collected toys for children 12 and under who otherwise wouldn't be able to get presents on Christmas. The fire department is looking for monetary donations or new toys to be given out, and those can be dropped off at Station 1, located at 200 N. Madison Ave.

"I have helped get the toys together and take the children up so that they can pick out which toys that they want for the past 20 years," Administrative Assistant, Charlotte Debord said. "I just love seeing the looks on the kids faces when they are able to pick out the toys that they want, it's whatever catches their eye that they get to take home with them."

Last year, they serviced around 450 children from the Madison County area. Each child can end up with around three gifts each. The toy drive is set up in a room at the training center on Dec. 13, and they will be distributed between 8 a.m. and noon that day.

"The toys line the walls of the big room and are separated into age groups so that when a volunteer or fireman brings the child up, it'll be easy to show them in the direction that their toys are located," Debord said. "They get to pick out their toys, and as they are leaving they are given a bag of fruit to take home with them."

The firefighters ask that anyone interested in this program sign up by Dec. 10, so that they know how many gifts they will need to have by Dec. 13.

"All children 12 and under are free to sign up, nobody is turned away," Debord said.

Fort Boonesborough celebrating a 'Pioneer Christmas'

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

At Fort Boonesborough State Park, Christmas for all ethnic groups will come alive. Each cabin will be set up to show those who visit the park what Christmas was like in the 18th century for the Dutch, Irish, Italians, and more.

"The fort will be lighted with candles and we will also have a bonfire for people to enjoy," Rob Minerich, park manager said. "My favorite part is seeing how different Christmas used to be for so many back in the 18th Century."

On Dec. 5-6, from 6 to 9 p.m., there will be warm apple cider, Christmas treats and Christmas Carols for the community to enjoy while also learning a little history too.

"The candle-lit fort is a sight to see; it is so beautiful. It really taught me to have an appreciation for the pioneers that were exploring the country at that time, and to show how they celebrated the holiday during that time. It is really neat stuff," Minerich said.

Living history interpretations and Christmas carols will be performed in the museum, and the gift shop will be open for purchase any spur-of-the-moment Christmas gifts.

"It is a really fun event for all ages, and it is really interesting I like that families can come together to not only get into the Christmas spirit themselves, but to also learn about the history of different ethnic groups. It definitely opens your eyes to a different side of Christmas that some may have no knowledge about," Minerich said.

Cost of the event is $7 for adults, $3 for ages 6-12 and free for those children under 5.

BEREA CHAMBER SPONSORS HOLIDAY LIGHTING COMPETITION

By Machaela Ballard
Register News Writer

Residents and business owners inside the city limits of Berea who are decorating their homes and businesses can enter the Berea Chamber of Commerce's Christmas Decorating contest for the upcoming Christmas Holiday season.

The application process is within two residential categories: Traditional Christmas and animated Christmas. The traditional category will be judged on the use of holiday colors, lights and themes. Animated category entries will be judged based on the use of characters with moving parts. The use of multimedia may be included.

There is one commercial/business category that will be judged based on the use of holiday colors, lights and themes.

All proceeds from the $10 registration fee will benefit the Berea Fire Department toy drive.

Entries will be judged anonymously Friday, Dec. 5, and winners will be recognized through an announcement made during the 29th annual Twilight Christmas Parade on Saturday, Dec. 6.

Signage recognizing the winner in each category will be placed at each location through Dec. 31. Additionally, the winner in each category will receive a $150 cash prize and bragging rights for the entire year.

The street addresses of all contest entries will be listed on the chamber website for self-guided tours. Photos of all winning entries will also be placed in the Berea Citizen.

To apply, visit the Berea Chamber website at bereachamber.com. For details, call 986-9760 or email chamber@bereachamber.com.

Become an elf and make your own gifts

By Machaela Ballard
Register News Writer

There is hardly a more personal gift than one made by your own hands, said Berea Tourism Director Belle Jackson.

That is why Berea Tourism is hosting Make It, Take It, Give It. The program offers 30 workshops that provide instruction by professional artisans and all materials needed to create a one-of-a-kind gift made by your own hands.

Courses range from glass-blowing an ornament, a copper or brass stamped cuff bracelet, snowscape painting, gourd chickens, boot-toppers, crocheted scarves and more.

"The one I want to take is the Shaker oval box class," Jackson said. "It's a two day class and by the end you can go home with four shaker oval boxes. How awesome is that?"

Prices for the courses vary depending on materials and time. Typically a class lasts a half- to full-day, but can also last multiple days.

"The costs outweigh learning a new skill," Jackson said. "You can't buy four shaker boxes for the cost of the course, and you get to bring out your inner artist and learn how to make them, too."

For those who can not make it to a course, or know someone who might like to receive a class as a gift, purchasing the course for someone else is always an option.

Berea Tourism's website, berea.com, has a list of the courses, times they are available and descriptions including difficulty level. All courses can be purchased online.

Some classes, particularly beginner-level classes, are family friendly for children, parents and grandparents, Jackson said.

For details or questions, call 800-598-5263.

ORIGINAL ART, ORIGINAL GIFT

By Machaela Ballard
Register Staff Writer

Typically a gallery throughout the rest of the year, the Berea Arts Council building in Old Town Berea will transform into a unique shopping experience during its "Original Art, Original Gift" holiday shopping event Dec. 14-30, said BAC executive director Gwen Childs.

Approximately 30 artists will have items that are not typically sold elsewhere, said Childs.

Handmade items ranging from stitched fabric baskets and quilted pieces, functional wooden pieces, pottery from several studios, holiday cards and metalwork will be available for purchase Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

"We ask local artists whose art isn't necessarily covered in other shops, to display with us for the holidays," Childs said. "Berea has a reputation for being the folk arts and crafts center of Kentucky and there are a lot of artists trying to make a living here. We want to give all an equal opportunity."

The transformation from gallery to shop is something the council looks forward to every year, Childs said. It's an opportunity for all to shop because there are items at every price level, she added.

"Keeping handmade items idea in mind, it's a wonderful opportunity for us to keep it all concentrated into one area. It's also an opportunity to find that right, handmade gift for the holidays," she said.

HOLIDAY EVENTS AT THE KENTUCKY ARTISAN CENTER

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

From Thanksgiving until Christmas, every Saturday, the Kentucky Artisan Center in Berea presents a variety of experiences. Beginning on Saturday, Nov. 29, the Center will offer a folk art demonstration by Jo Ann Butts, of Sandy Hook; holiday music on Celtic harp, Uilleann pipes and flute by Lorinda Jones and Cathy Wilde, of Rineyville; and a book signing by photographer Ed Lawrence, of Frankfort, signing his new book "Kentucky 120."

"There are endless opportunities to enjoy the holidays in a unique fashion when you add Kentucky-made art, crafts, books, music and food to your celebrations," said Victoria Faoro, executive director of the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea. "We are proud to offer thousands of Kentucky-made items and to present artisan book signings, musical performances and demonstrations on Saturdays throughout this holiday season."

On Saturday, Dec. 6, visitors to the Kentucky Artisan Center can experience the arts through demonstrations and music as Wyman Rice of Lexington demonstrates his sculptural hand-built pottery and musicians Kyle Meadows and Tisa McGraw of Cold Spring play hammered dulcimer and Celtic harp to fill the air with holiday favorites.

Saturday, Dec. 13, visitors to the Center will enjoy a variety of events with Cynthia Cusick of Irvine demonstrating her inlaid pottery decoration techniques, musician Jan Hill of Lexington performing holiday favorites on the harp, and free guided gallery tours through the center's current exhibit "Put a Lid On It: Containers by Kentucky Artisans," given at 11 a.m. and again at 2 p.m.

On Saturday, Dec. 20, visitors can experience the arts with woodcarving demonstrations and music as the Berea Welcome Center Carvers demonstrate a variety of holiday carvings and the musical group Raison D'Etire performs holiday favorites. This singing trio also plays piano, drums, guitar and banjo, to accompany their songs with fresh rhythms.

All artisan demonstrations are held from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and musical performances and book signings are held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Artisan Center is located off I-75 at Berea Exit 77. Open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., admission is free. For more information about the events call 859-985-5448.

Danish-American Christmas Celebration

All are invited to celebrate Christmas with traditions from both America and Denmark.

WHITE HALL STATE PARK A VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS

By Bonnie Dalley
Register News Writer

White Hall State Park, located at 500 White Hall Shrine Road, can be seen in a different perspective this Christmas than normal. On Dec. 5, 6, 12, and 13, from 6 to 8 p.m., 10,000 square feet of White Hall will be decorated for Christmas. In Victorian style, a self-guided tour will lead you through history with the different themed rooms, and into the basement where you'll find a band playing African music.

"Our goal was to show the difference between the splendor of Christmas in the Victorian era, how nice and upper class it was, then to the basement to see how the less fortunate spent their Christmas," park manager, Kathleen White said. "Tuesday Morning Dulcimers will also be performing in the drawing room, and refreshments will be available on site."

Decorating for Christmas at White Hall began the last week of October, and will finally come alive the first week of December.

"I think it's exciting because everyone is always really happy around Christmas time, and it is always fun to present the museum in a way that people normally don't see it as," White said.

"Every room is decorated with a different theme, and different story to show history and the Christmas spirit. The lights, glitter and music really add to the set up, and have been a big hit in the past."

Admission is $10 for adults, $8 for groups of 10 or more and those with military, senior or AAA, $4 for children ages 6 to 12. Guests are asked to bring non-perishable food items when they come to see the decorations so that White Hall can donate the items to the Salvation Army. All money raised during this time will be going back into White Hall State Park, and to future events for the public.

Sara Hammond named to two awards lists

University of Louisville women's basketball senior Sara Hammond has been named to two prestigious preseason awards lists recently.

Hammond, who has helped the Cardinals to a 4-0 start, earned a spot on the John R. Wooden Award Preseason Top 30 in addition to being selected to the prestigious Wade Watch list, which was announced by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association.

A preseason all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in the Cardinals' first season in the league, Hammond is averaging 8.5 points and 7.3 rebounds in addition to totaling 10 assists, five blocks, and two steals.

Hammond, who is rapidly approaching 1,000 career points, earned WBCA All-America honorable mention status last year while helping Louisville to the NCAA Elite Eight. The first team all-American Athletic Conference performer averaged 10.4 points and 5.9 rebounds. She shot 51 percent from the field, including a 50.6-percent clip in league play that was fifth in the AAC. She earned Preseason WNIT MVP accolades early in the season.

For her career, the Mt. Vernon native has played in 111 games and accumulated 935 points, 606 rebounds, and 101 steals. Since arriving in 2011-12, Louisville has compiled an 89-24 record - or a .788 winning percentage - and advanced at least to the NCAA Elite Eight two of her three years.

Created in 1976, the John R. Wooden Award is the most prestigious individual honor in college basketball. It is bestowed upon the nation's best player at an institution of higher education who has proven to his or her university that he or she is making progress toward graduation and maintaining a minimum cumulative 2.0 GPA.

Players not chosen to the John R. Wooden Award preseason list are eligible for both the midseason list and the National Ballot. The National Ballot consists of 20 top players who have proven to their universities that they are making progress toward graduation and maintaining at least a 2.0 cumulative GPA. The Wooden Award All American team, consisting of the nation's top five players, will be announced the week of the Final Four.

Now in its 38th year, The Wade Trophy is named in honor of the late, legendary Delta State coach Lily Marga-

Ben Lake, a 2012 graduate from Rockcastle County High School has received the honor of being named All-Association First Team - Offense by the UAA (University Athletic Association) in the sport of football. Ben was one of three members on his team to receive this honor from the UAA for which his school, Washington University in St. Louis is a founding member. He was named to the All-Academic UAA team earlier in the season for his 3.5+ GPA at WUSTL where he is pursuing a degree in Mechanical Engineering. Ben and his family wish to thank his past teachers, administrators and the football coaching staff at Rockcastle County Schools for their part in his successes so far.

Hunter voted OVC Player of the Week

Eastern Kentucky University sophomore guard Michaela Hunter has been voted the Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Week for women's basketball.

The Mt. Vernon native scored 14 points, grabbed six rebounds and came up with four steals in the Colonels 56-55 win over Central Arkansas on Friday, Nov. 21st. She also sank a pair of free throws with 10 seconds remaining in regulation to give Eastern the lead for good.

One day later, Hunter exploded for a double-double against host Mercer, scoring a career-high 27 points and grabbing a career-high 12 rebounds. She also dished out three assists, blocked a shot, came up with a steal and shot a very-proficient 5 of 7 from three point range.

Hunter is currently fourth in the OVC in scoring (16.3 ppg), rebounding (8.3 rebounds per game) and steals (2 per game).

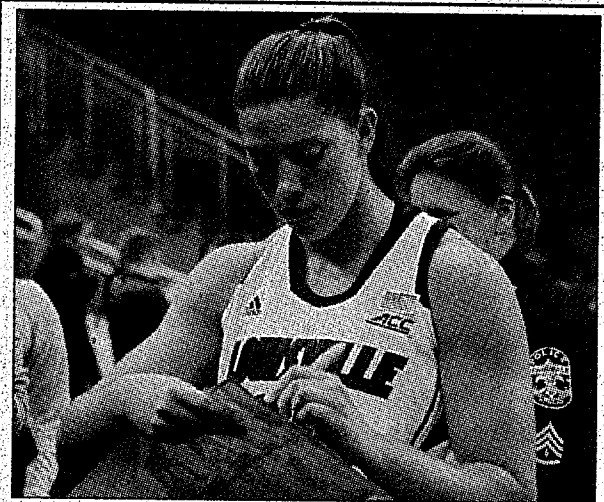

She is the first Colonel to be named CVC Player of the Week since Marie Carpenter on Nov. 19, 2013.

Tyler earns Life Rank from BSA

Benjamin Tyler, 13, son of John and Sandy Tyler of Brodhead, has earned his Life Rank from the Boy Scouts of America.

His next goal is to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank awarded in Boy Scouts. Benjamin has been a Scout since first grade and is currently a member of Boy Scout Troop 256.

Sara Hammond has been named to the John R. Wooden Award Pre-Season Top 30 and the prestigious Wade Watch list.

JROTC competes at Campbell County, TN

On November 22nd, the Mighty Rockcastle County Raider Team sent a group of highly motivated young men to compete and represent "The Rock" in the annual "Raider Rally in the Valley" Raider Competition in Campbell County, Tennessee. Cadets competed in the following six events throughout the course of the day on Saturday: One Rope Bridge, Cross Country Rescue, Knot Tying, First Aid Test, Map Reading Test, and Strength Test.

The One Rope Bridge consisted of an eight person team that erects a rope bridge across a stream. Teams had to tie their swiss-seat harness and construct the one rope bridge in least amount of time as possible.

The Cross Country Rescue was an event in which an eight man team carried a weighted field stretcher, weighted ammo cans, three 60 lbs. ruck sacks, and 2 jerry cans of water over a 1.0+ mile path. Along the route, each team member had to navigate obstacles with the given equipment. Teams were to complete this event in the fastest time as possible.

The Knot Tying event tested each cadets' individual skills and knowledge in their knot tying ability. Cadets prepared by learning over 20 different knots. Each cadet was given a series of knots to tie and were judged on the correctness of them.

Map Reading and First Aid skills are critical to a Raider. Each cadet must be educated in reading a topographical map and knowing critical first aid skills. Four cadets were chosen to take a map reading test and the other four took a first aid test.

The most physically challenging event of the competition would be the Strength Test. Cadets were pushed to their physical limits as they had to complete a tire drag, carry a steel pole around an obstacle, one mile run while carrying railroad ties, and complete a push-up bridge.

The team with the fastest time won this event. The Rockcastle JROTC Raider Team competed against top schools from across Kentucky and Tennessee. Each cadet gave 110% effort and represented the community of Rockcastle County with pride.

Competing in the "Raider Rally in the Valley" Competition were: Holden Abrams, Addison Atkin, William Cole, Elijah Didelot, Dillion Doan, Tim Henson, Will Martin, Anthony Morris, Zach Nelson, and Joseph Pearson.

Net Metering Service - Rate NMS
Company proposes text changes to the definition of "Billing Period Credit" to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge - Rider RC

	Current	Proposed
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12
Primary Distribution	$1.25	$1.11

Standard Rider for Supplemental or Standby Service - Rider SS

Contract Demand per month:
Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer's applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer's total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:
Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
- the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer's equipment.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service - Rate LEV

Current:
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297

Proposed - This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company's outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers' input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider - Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR's Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer's billing in any billing month in which the customer's metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

Adding the following provision that could result in a charge to certain customers:

Changes in Service
Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions - Budget Payment Plan

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Proposed:
Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet!
Some things to think about...
What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?
Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.
Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?
A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and bleach to help dissolve stains.
B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.
The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors; Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildew, causing carpet threads to rot, shortening the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.
Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?
C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.
D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.
E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.
The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying time is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again - Promoting the life of the carpet.
Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.

Poinsettia demand hits peak this time of year

Farm and Home News

Tom Mills

Rockcastle County Extension Office

Many people who dream of a white Christmas also like to bring a little of the tropics into their homes, by decorating with poinsettias. The irony is sun-loving, warm-weather preferring poinsettias can easily be damaged by the temperatures that accompany a white Christmas. If it is below freezing when you purchase your poinsettias, be sure to cover the plants when outdoors. Even brief exposure to sub-freezing temperatures can severely damage poinsettias.

Demand for the plant has grown steadily over the past decade. Ironically, that has resulted in fewer growers producing larger numbers of plants. Poinsettia is a high-input crop that commands a fairly low price, so profit margins are tight, and only the most efficient growers can profitably produce poinsettias. In the greenhouse world, that translates to large, highly automated operations according to Rebecca Schnelle, Extension Specialist for Floriculture and Greenhouse Crops.

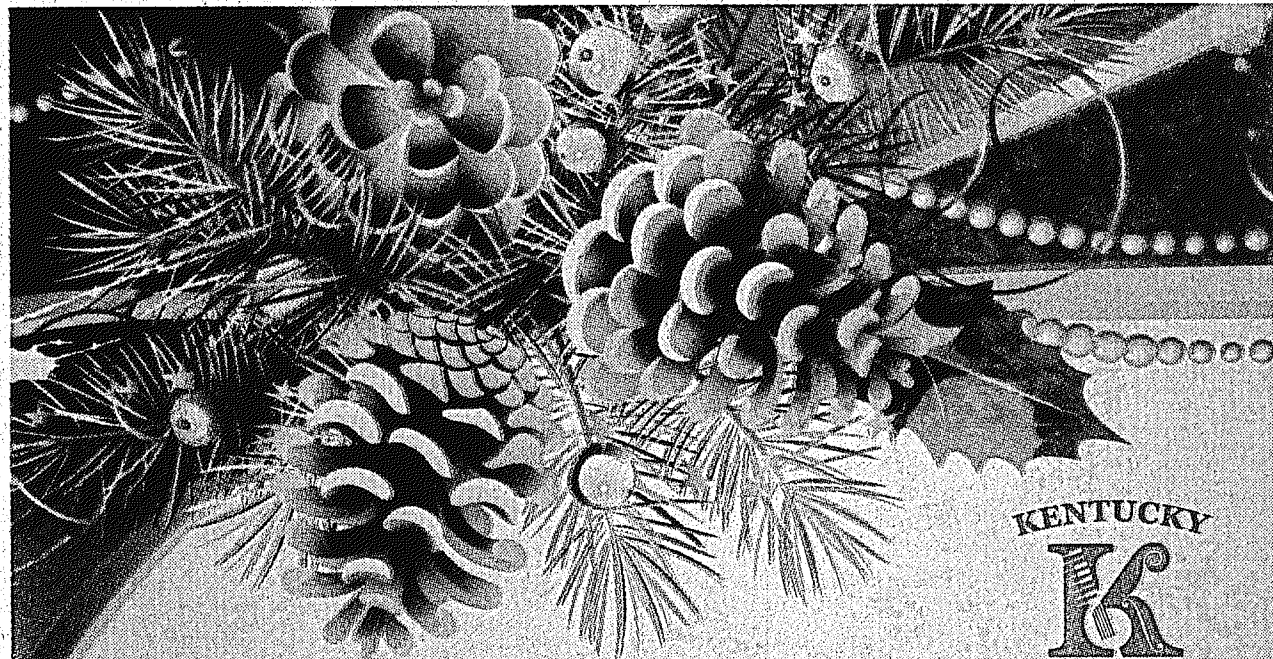

To produce the perfect plant for home décor, growers have their hands full. Poinsettias are propagated from cuttings between mid-July and mid-September. Producers must schedule it perfectly so the plants are in bloom at the right time.

They must also monitor and control the plant's height, since in the wild poinsettias aren't the small tabletop plants we recognize, they're large shrubs or small multi-trunked trees. The plants are also highly susceptible to insects and disease, and they require precise fertilization.

And when consumers get the plants home, they're still not maintenance free. Poinsettias, like all plants, need light and water. But don't use too much water. After you water them, be sure to let the soil dry thoroughly before watering again. Also try to select a location near a sunny window to maximize the time your poinsettias will stay beautiful.

Consumer demand has resulted in a host of new shapes and colors aside from the traditional red. White, pink and burgundy poinsettias can easily be found these days, along with dyed and glittered versions. And as for the long-standing myth about poinsettias being toxic? Schnelle said that scientific research has shown the plants are not poisonous to people, dogs or cats, even if eaten in large quantities.

"While there's no danger," she said, "I still recommend keeping poinsettias and all indoor plants out of the reach of children and pets."
