Former KY Music Hall of Fame director arrested

By: Doug Ponder
Former Kentucky Music Hall of Fame Director Robert Lawson was arrested last Thursday for theft by deception after reportedly stealing over $28,000 from various bank accounts.

According to state police reports, Lawson allegedly stole over $28,000, since July of 2013, from three accounts, that he was trusted with managing.

Officials were tipped-off about the issue in January when they noticed Lawson had cashed a "duplicate" payroll check for $1,161.62 from the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame. When questioned about the check, Lawson told investigators that "he lost the other check."

However, detectives later learned that Lawson had previously cashed another payroll check with the same account name and pay period date as the duplicate check.

After further investigation, investigators learned that Lawson had written four checks in his name on the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame Induction account without approval from the KMHF Board of Directors. The four checks totaled $5,400.

Lawson also allegedly wrote three checks in his name from the Rockcastle County Cystic Fibrosis account without authority. Those checks came to a total of $3,150.

Lawson also wrote six more checks in his name from the Rockcastle Tourism Taskforce account. The checks totaled $12,250. It was also noted that the Rockcastle Tourism Taskforce account was set up to handle funds for the annual "Blast in the Valley" event for the county's Independence Day celebration at Renfro Valley.

Lawson went on to write a $7,000 check from the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame induction account to the Rockcastle Tourism Taskforce account. Lawson wrote the check without the approval of either of the board of directors involved and investigators believe he wrote the check to cover other checks written to himself from the Rockcastle Tourism Taskforce.

County Attorney Billy Reynolds said that Lawson's embezzlement case is still under investigation by the Kentucky State Police. He said the amount stolen by Lawson could increase and more charges are possible once the audits of all the funds Lawson was in charge of are completed.

Lawson is charged with two counts of theft by deception-including cold checks. He remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $30,000 cash bond.

Lawson was arraigned in Rockcastle County District Court on Monday and pled not guilty to the charges. He was appointed a Public Defender, Nathan Shirley, who made a motion to label Lawson as a "non-flight

Local government officials give updates on county and cities

By: Doug Ponder
Local government officials gave their "State of the County" and "State of the City" addresses at the monthly Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce meeting on Tuesday.

County Judge Executive Doug Bishop, and each of the city's mayors, gave an annual update on various issues and projects happening in their jurisdiction.

Mt. Vernon Mayor Mike Bryant reported that the city's biggest project at the moment is the "water tank project." He said the project includes two new water tanks, one at the "Juanita Davis" property on South Wilderness Road near downtown and the other on "Faith Mountain" near McDonald's on Hwy 25.

"It's an approximately $3 million project that will double our capacity for water storage," Bryant said. "The project was scheduled to be completed in September but it has now been pushed back to October due to inclement weather."

Bryant said that the city is continuing to make improvements at the Lake Linville Recreational Complex.

"We are planning to install a splash pad for children and do some other things as well," Bryant said. "We hope to have the splash pad installed by this fall."

Bryant said that the city's police and fire departments are both the "best equipped they ever have been."

"We can't brag on them enough about the great jobs that both departments are doing," Bryant said. "This

Travelers pass through county as they hike the historic Boone Trace

By: Doug Ponder
Two hikers passed through Rockcastle County this week, continuing their quest of being the first two people to hike the actual Boone Trace since the 18th century.

Curtis Penly, 46, of Michigan and Givan Fox, 42, of Colorado, followed the original trail of Boone Trace through Rockcastle County earlier this week and plan to make it to the end of the trail at Fort Boonsborough later this week.

According to the local non-profit group "Friends of Boone Trace," the trail was established in the spring of 1775 by Daniel Boone and a party of thirty men. The trace started in Martin Station, Virginia, and ended at Fort Boonsborough, which is north of Richmond on the Kentucky River.

Boone Trace is approximately 220 miles from start to finish and the trace was used by thousands of people in the late 18th century to move from North Carolina and Virginia to Kentucky.

A large portion of the original Boone Trace has been incorporated into state highways, county roads or railroad tracks. Approximately twenty percent of the trace runs

By Ike Adams

Okay, okay, okay. I know that I promised to report the results of the recently published Appalachian/Hillbilly terminology/dialect quiz in this week's paper but that ain't gonna happen for a bunch of reasons/excuses.

I went into this little exercise expecting that maybe I would get a couple dozen responses. The column first ran on Thursday and Friday, March 12th and 13th. As of Monday, March 23rd, the responses were still pouring in. Instead of a couple dozen responses, I stopped counting at 300.

The number of snail mail responses, by itself, has already exceeded the total number I had anticipated from email and paper combined.

As mentioned in that column, I pointed out that I was, as I am with this one, too late to hit The Mountain Eagle's (Whitesburg/Letcher County) deadline. Eagle editor, Ben Gish, saw fit to run it on March 20, which means that out-of-state readers have not yet received their hometown newspaper and they will cry foul if I fail to record their responses.

For that matter, I have had 2 responses from Chicago and Detroit readers of the Mount Vernon Signal who didn't get their March 12th paper until today. I figure that, thanks to the good old U. S. Post Office, Mountain Eagle readers on the West and East Coasts won't be seeing their papers until sometime up in April.

I love my mailman like a brother, which is why I hate to see the U. S. Postal Service go out of business, but without Divine intervention, the only thing my great grandchildren will know about the U. S. Mail will be what they will read in their American History texts.

Now I'm wondering if there is anybody, over 50 years old, who was actually born in Richmond or London, because I have heard from hundreds of the senior residents in those two cities who tell me they were born and raised in either Letcher, Leslie, Knott, Perry, Pike, Floyd or name your favorite eastern Kentucky County and "moved down here" to either find work, go fishing, chase women or all of the above except for the women who came to teach school, chase men and go shopping.

Another observation, worth noting here, is that a relatively amazing number of former residents of Harlan County subscribe to The Harlan Daily Enterprise, online. I intend to make a point of getting in touch with Debbie Caldwell, the editor there, this week and find out exactly how many out-of-state digital subscribers she has. I knew that significant num-

Slate Blackboards
As chairman of the Powell County Board of Education, I was recently asked to approve the payment of several "whiteboards" for our remaining elementary classrooms that had not yet received these educational tools.

For those of you who are not aware of recent technological improvements in our schools, allow me to explain. These wall-mounted boards are interactive mediums which teachers use to turn their computers into interactive "chalkboards" as well as multimedia sites for presentations and activities. The boards are touch-sensitive, displaying a computer screen which is connected through a standard USB plug and a digital projector. In other words, these devices are an expansion of the old slate blackboards that were used in my day.

I was reminded of how far we have progressed in providing information to our students. When I was growing up, all of Mt. Vernon's classrooms had black slate blackboards, boxes of white chalk, and felt erasers. Wonder how many hours we spent taking notes from elementary and high school teachers as they threw chalk all over those huge boards? Some displayed their talents and creativity, while using their boards, and some wrote so poorly that you could not actually take down their notes.

As a kid, I used to volunteer to wash the boards and dust the erasers on a regular basis. Some might think that I was "polishing the apple" for my teachers; I really just wanted to get outside and be in the fresh air. Anyone who has done that chore will recall that it is a time-consuming activity.

The process involved going to the janitor's closet to get one of his buckets and some clean rags so the blackboard could be cleansed of all the chalk dust. I stood on a classroom chair and cleaned one section, then moved the chair, and repeated the process until the entire board was truly black again.

I then gathered all of the erasers into a small basket and took them outdoors in order to get rid of the chalk dust. That feat was accomplished by beating the felt erasers against the side wall of the playground. Chalk dust would fly everywhere. By the time that I had finished, chalk dust covered me and my clothes. I looked like a ghost. Before returning to my classroom, I stopped at the boy's restroom to put myself back in order.

Even in college at UK, we had to take notes from very large boards that were written on by the professors. I could never forget my very first note-taking session while enrolled in a chemistry class. That professor could fill up a board with notes, chemistry equations, and problems faster than lightning. To my horror, when the board was filled, he pushed a button and another board came down from the ceiling, covering the original information - before I could take it all down! I was in trouble on that first day. In the coming weeks, I had to learn to keep up. There was certainly no time to let my mind wander from the task at hand.

Occasionally, one of my chemistry professors would instruct us to take out several blank sheets of paper in order to take a quiz, work chemistry problems, or balance a list of equations. Once we were ready, he pushed his button, and the quiz slid down from the ceiling. After the time that we were given to complete the work had elapsed, he pushed the button again. The quiz was over. That was the "modern" equipment in my time.

One day at UK I remember one of my English professors telling us to take out a single sheet of paper in order to write an essay. He then walked to his blackboard and jotted down the

by: Tonya J. Cook

*The Problem With No Solution
(At Least in the Near Future)*

Dear Journal,

I was watching television this morning and representatives from the Humane Society were being interviewed. Today, March twenty-third, is National Puppy Day. There is one of the most noble and worthwhile causes I know of. Aiding needy animals, those that are abused and homeless, to me there is no more noble cause.

I've even noticed in the Signal's "Letters to the Editor" section, the letters concerning the plight of the homeless and abused animals here in the county. I'll agree there are a lot of "sick people" out there and not only in this county, that don't seem to care about animals.

I don't understand why people don't have their pets spayed or neutered. Yes, it is costly, about a hundred dollars more or less, especially for those on fixed incomes. Let me let you in on a no-cost solution. Keep your pet up, at least while it is "in season". To stay inside or in a shed, kennel, etc., will do nicely for about a week.

For those who choose to drop off their "problem" in a secluded area or maybe in a nice neighborhood where "Fluffy" will find a good home, I say, "Shame on you". Do you know what will probably happen? "Fluffy" will probably be run over and die hurt and alone or wander so far into the woods they will starve or be killed by wild animals. Dumping animals is also illegal.

Then, there are those who decided they want to abuse an animal for amusement. I have no doubt in my mind someone would have to be influenced by Satan to mistreat the innocent like that. If there is any real justice, the same should happen to them.

Some go out of their way to fight dogs, mostly pit bull dogs. They make the dogs as aggressive as possible.

This otherwise gentle dog was once known as the "nanny dog" because of its patience, tolerance and love of children.

There is no easy to solution to the over-population and abuse of animals. It is a community and world problem. Everybody needs to do something. There used to be an animal rescue organiza-

"Points East"

bers of readers of most local papers enjoy reading their hometown news on a computer monitor but Harlan Countians seem to be more broadly dispersed across the globe than all the other central and eastern Kentucky locales combined.

Anyway, as if she didn't have anything else about which to fuss at me, Loretta is complaining that the hillbilly word column was ill-conceived.

After taking a glance at the stacks of letters and printed emails on my desk last night, she said, "You'd better nip this in the bud right now and get this mess cleaned up! I don't remember signing up to be your secretary."

If you get your email through one of the major servers like AOL, Yahoo, gmail, etc., you probably get one of those spam scams every day from some crook trying to steal your password by telling you your mailbox is full and you'd better get in touch with them right now. I have email accounts at those three and it happens to me at least three times every day. I dutifully forward them to the Kentucky State Police and the FBI.

When I received one of those from AOL, last week, it turned out to not be a prank. I'm accustomed to getting well over a hundred emails every day, largely because I am a member of two facebook groups, Letcher County Genealogy and Chief Redbird Descendants that combine for that many alone. Add Gw Garrard County and Letcher High School Alumni and the pile is even higher.

Twice, last week, my mailbox was, in fact "full". After running out of both paper and printer ink, I stopped printing responses unless they had all 14 of the published terms exactly the way I originally intended. If you emailed me and didn't get a response or acknowledgement, I do, most sincerely apologize. Ditto if you thought the response to be a bit terse and impersonal. I was simply overwhelmed and unprepared.

But rest assured, we will be publishing a report on the effort as soon as I finish grading papers and we will be doing this again as soon as I figure out a way to get prepared for the oodles of responses it may generate. I can promise you now that the next one will be a doozy.

following instructions: "Write a 100 word essay on a single bottle of mucilage [glue]. When you have finished, you may leave."

Because of my biology classes, I knew that glue was sometimes produced from dead horse's hooves; therefore, I used that as the perspective from which to write my essay. The next day, my professor asked me to read my paper to the class, and he complimented me on my "original" thinking. (Whew!) I was a "big dog" that day. Sometimes science could be used in English class, thank goodness.

As a high school chemistry teacher for 38 years, I suppose I have written a hundred miles of text and equations on those old slate blackboards. And yes, there were students of mine who would volunteer to clean them up. But they were certainly not pulling any wool over my eyes. I understood completely that they, too, were looking for a way out of class and into the outdoors. After all, teachers were once kids, too.

On Wednesday, March 18th, Mount Vernon Elementary fifth graders were taken back in time to chat with one of Kentucky's great Frontiersmen, Simon Kenton. This wonderful opportunity was brought about thanks to Toyota and Citizens Bank of Mt. Vernon. Students learned many interesting facts about Simon Kenton that ultimately shaped the state we treasure today. Also, in attendance for this special guest appearance was the Head of the Kentucky Humanities Council, Mr. Ben Chandler. MVES would like to say thanks for making day one to remember and sparking interest in statehood and frontiersmen. Student members pictured are MVES 5th Grade Student Council Members: Carson White, Ethan Puckett, Matthew Hubbard, Kaylee Shoemaker, Matthew Chasteen and Journey McGuire. Back row: Instructional Supervisor Jason Coguer, Principal JD Bussell, Citizens Bank President Corey Craig, Mr. Chandler and Actor Mel Hankla.

Local educator Tracy Gabbard was recognized last week at the Whitaker Bank/KHSAA Boys' Sweet 16 Basketball Tournament by Secretary of State Alison Lundergan Grimes. Gabbard was one of 11 recognized for their work to promote civic education across the Commonwealth. The Kentucky Outstanding Civic Education Leadership Award recognizes teachers, school administrators, legislators and community leaders who have made notable contributions toward promoting or implementing civic learning to prepare students to be active and engaged in their communities. Each finalist received a plaque and was recognized at center court of Rupp Arena, thanks to the Whitaker Bank/KHSAA Boys' Sweet Sixteen Basketball Tournament organizers. In addition, Awards and prizes were made possible by the contest's co-sponsors, the Kentucky Administrative Office of the Courts and Kentucky Department of Education.

The American Revolutionary War Patriots of Rockcastle

To celebrate and honor the county's American Revolutionary War Patriots and to enlighten the community about the service and sacrifice of these brave men, on behalf of the Rockcastle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, I have compiled highlights of the service of the known patriots living in the county and who applied for a pension between the years of 1818 and 1842. All information was taken from the patriot's own account from his pension application and other historical documents. More information can be found on each patriot at the local library or the Rockcastle Historical Society. (Copyright Pending). John Cromer was born 22 April 1758 in Lancaster

Co. PA and died 3 April 1839 Harrison Co. Indiana. According to his pension application, John Cromer gave the following account of his service on 3 October 1832 in Harrison County IN at the age of seventy four. He entered the service of the United States in the fall of 1776 in Lancaster Co. PA as a Private in a company commanded by Captain Hollinger in the rifle regiment commanded by Colonel John Hodver. John served under those officers for a total of ten months, in five different tours, each being two months a piece.

John was scouting in the area around Philadelphia and the Delaware River and guarded against the British ships entering the area. He aided in fixing a chain in the Delaware River to help prevent the enemy ships from coming up the river which was eventually broken by the redcoats. He also stated that he was at Brandywine but not in the battle. He was sent on a scouting assign-

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash Balances and Cash Equivalents - Regulatory Basis of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, for the year ended June 30, 2013, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States and the Audit Guide for Fiscal Court Audits issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in more fully in Note 1, the financial statement is prepared by Rockcastle County, Kentucky on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of Rockcastle County, Kentucky as of June 30, 2013, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the cash balances and cash equivalents of Rockcastle County, Kentucky as of June 30, 2013, and its cash receipts and disbursements, for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government described in Note 1.

Emphasis of Matters

As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statement, in fiscal year 2013, the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court adopted new accounting guidance on a regulatory basis. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statement, the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court would have included some component entities under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) as established by the Government Accounting Standards Board. However, under the regulatory basis they are no longer required components of the reporting entity. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

During the fiscal year end June 30, 2013, Rockcastle County paid $3,931 to Brodhead Farm Equipment. Brodhead Farm Equipment is owned by Magistrate Bill McKinney's brother who disclosed these related party transactions.

Other Matters

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statement taken as a whole of Rockcastle County, Kentucky. The budgetary comparison schedules and capital asset schedule are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statement. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statement. The budgetary comparison schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statement and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statement or to the financial statement itself, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the budgetary comparison schedules are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statement. The capital asset schedule has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statement and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on it.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated November 05, 2014 on our consideration of Rockcastle County, Kentucky's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Based on the results of our audit, we present the accompanying comments and recommendations included herein, which discusses the following report comment:

2013-01: The Fiscal Court Should Ensure Appropriations Do Not Exceed Approved Budgets

2013-02: The Jail Lacks Adequate Segregation Of Duties Over Receipts, Disbursements, And Reconciliations

Respectfully submitted,

AUNT DORIS'S CHOCOLATE PIE

I remember many happy times spent with Aunt Doris and Uncle Walker and their family. Every time we visited them, we would end up spending most of the night there. The adults would be playing Rook and we kids were having water fights and just having a grand time. Aunt Doris always had a pot of pinto beans, some baked cornbread and a dessert for us. This pie was one of our favorites.

Small dash salt
3 cups sugar
6 heaping tablespoons flour
3 cups evaporated milk
3 and 1/2 heaping T cocoa
7 egg yolks
3 caps vanilla
1/2 stick butter
2 baked 8 or 9 inch pie shells

TOPPING:

1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
7 egg whites
14 level tablespoons sugar
Mix first six ingredients well in double boiler. Stir until sugar dissolves, then cover, stirring occasionally. When thickened, add vanilla and butter. Remove from heat. Mix well until butter melts. Pour into pie crusts.

Whip cream of tartar with the egg whites until soft peaks form. Add sugar one tablespoon at a time until stiff peaks form. Spread on top of pie. Put in 350° oven until lightly browned. Remove from oven and let cool.

OLD FASHION PIE

This recipe came from my cousin and it was her Grandmother James' recipe for old fashion pie, some call it butterscotch pie and some call it "Good" and easy to make.

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons cream
2 cups brown sugar
4 egg yolks
2 cups milk
3 heaping tablespoons corn starch

8 - or 9-inch baked pie shell
In a skillet or heavy pan melt butter, cream, and sugar.

Mix egg yolks, milk, and corn starch into the butter mixture. Cook over medium heat until thickened. Pour into baked pie shell. Let cool.

Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet! Some things to think about...
 What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?
 Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.
Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?
 A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and bleach to help dissolve stains.
 B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.
 The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors. Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildewing, causing carpet threads to rot, shorting the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.
Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?
 C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.
 D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.
 E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.
 The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying times is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again. Promoting the life of the carpet.
 Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.
